

MINOR SURGERY PROCEDURES AVAILABLE

Would you like to remove unwanted blemishes and lumps and bumps, effectively and with minimal pain?

Many people have skin lesions that are classified as benign (non-cancerous), and the NHS is currently unable to treat these routinely.

Minor Surgery Services are provided by Dr Marie-Clair Murphy, an experienced GP who works in both the NHS and the private sector.

Dr Murphy will assess your skin lesion and advise you of the most effective way to remove it.

Your initial consultation will last 15 minutes, in which a detailed history will be taken and measurements and photos taken. A complete explanation will be given about the procedure, the risks and benefits and a consent form completed should you wish to receive treatment.

We aim to remove non-cancerous lesions and if a lesion has suspicious features, an appropriate specialist referral will be made in your initial consultation.

This consultation costs just £70 and there is no obligation to proceed.
